

REGIONAL EVENTS

CONTINUING PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT PSYCHOANALYSIS LECTURE SERIES 2010

In conjunction with Plymouth TPCT
Department of Psychotherapy & Clinical Psychology, University of Plymouth

Saturday 6 March 9.30am – 1pm

Buckfast Abbey Conference Centre,
Buckfastleigh, Devon

Elements of the Oedipus Complex
Richard Rusbridger

Fee: £30

Enquiries and booking 01752 314493

THE INTRODUCTORY LECTURES

The lectures are the same as those listed in London and will be shown on a DVD followed by discussion in small groups

Regional sites:

Belfast – phone 02890 565 768
email: Charlene.lam@belfasttrust.hscni.net

North of England (Leeds site) – phone 0113 267 009 email: sedlak@blueyonder.co.uk

Colchester – phone 01787 313 107
email: marie.bridge@tiscali.co.uk

BOOKING INFORMATION

Admission to most events is by ticket only.
Requests for tickets or further information should be sent to the address below. You may pay by cheque payable to The Institute of Psychoanalysis or credit card (please supply card number, expiry date, security code and, if you are paying by switch, the issue number/start date). All events take place at the Institute of Psychoanalysis unless otherwise stated.

EVENTS

The Institute of Psychoanalysis
112A Shirland Road, London W9 2EQ
Tel: 020 7563 5017 Fax: 020 7563 5001
Email: ann.glynn@iopa.org.uk www.psychoanalysis.org.uk

INFORMATION

The British Psychoanalytical Society was founded in 1919. Soon after, the Institute of Psychoanalysis was established to administer the Society's activities.
These include: the development of the theory and practice of psychoanalysis, the training and further education of psychoanalysts, the provision of treatment through the London Clinic of Psychoanalysis, publishing books and journals, maintaining a library, research and public lectures.

The Society is a component society of the International Psychoanalytical Association, a body with members on all five continents, which safeguards professional standards and oversees the stages by which new societies are created. It is also a member of the British Psychoanalytic Council, which publishes a register of British psychoanalysts, analytical psychologists child psychotherapists and psychoanalytic psychotherapists. All members of the Society abide by the Code of Practice and Code of Ethics of the Council.

The Society currently has 438 members and 46 candidates. The Majority of them live in or near London, though there are 158 members in many different countries and in other parts of the British Isles. Many psychoanalysts work in public organisations, principally in the Health Service, as well as in private practice. Recently it has become possible for those living at a distance from London, to do the Training.

Those accepted for training come from a variety of backgrounds; the usual age of people beginning the training is between 30 and 40. Many are medically qualified, and the remainder are psychologists, social workers or academics, with the occasional student from another background. The training takes a minimum of four years and its main elements are:
a personal analysis, which lasts from at least a year before the student starts seminars until at least his or her qualification, a psychiatric placement for non-medical students, theoretical and clinical seminars, and the supervised psychoanalysis of two patients.
There is also a two-year post-qualification course and a training in child and adolescent psychoanalysis.

The London Clinic of Psychoanalysis offers a Consultation Service for anyone who may be interested in having a consultation with a qualified and experienced psychoanalyst. Recommendations for further treatment may include an analysis through the low-fee scheme at the Clinic or referral to a qualified psychoanalyst through the referral service. The Clinic has about 100 patients in treatment and the Child and Adolescent Department provides assessment and treatment for young people.

Through its work, and the work of its individual members, the British Psychoanalytical Society has made an unrivalled contribution to the understanding and treatment of mental illness. Members of the Society have included Michael Balint, Wilfred Bion, John Bowlby, Anna Freud, Ernest Jones, Melanie Klein, Joseph Sandler and Donald Winnicott.

A list of psychoanalysts can be found on the Society's website. For further information please contact Nick Hall, Institute Manager, 020 7563 5005.
For information about treatment for adults, adolescents or children, contact Trudy Turmer, Clinic Executive Officer, 020 7563 5002.
For psychoanalytic training, contact Luke Perry, Training Executive Officer, 020 7563 5015.
For the library, phone 020 7563 5008. For general enquiries phone 020 7563 5000. For press enquiries, contact Ginette Goulston on 07958 448002.

Front cover: Drawing by Sigmund Freud on p78 of the Standard Edition of the Complete Psychological Works of Sigmund Freud vol. XX11 (1932-1936)

Editor: Nicola Abel-Hirsch
Editorial Assistant: Ann Glynn
The Institute of Psychoanalysis is a registered charity:
No. 212330

THE INSTITUTE OF PSYCHOANALYSIS

BEYOND THE COUCH

Drawing by Sigmund Freud

PSYCHOANALYSIS IN BRITAIN TODAY

Public Events Spring 2010

PSYCHOANALYSIS AND CINEMA: SCREENING CONDITIONS

Series of films and discussions

A psychoanalytic exploration of films representing various forms of psychopathology and other emotional conditions.

Introduced by psychoanalyst Andrea Sabbadini and guest speaker Cheryl Moskowitz

Sundays 10am – 1.30pm

The Institute of Contemporary Arts,
The Mall, London SW1

THE BLANK PAGE

17 January The Snows of Kilimanjaro
Henry King, 1952

31 January Deconstructing Harry Woody Allen, 1997

14 February Barton Fink
Joel Cohen, 1991

14 March Il Postino
Michael Radford, 1994

Fee for the series £75 (concessions £66)
Single events £22 (concessions £18)
Groups of 4 or more £16

Enquiries and booking 020 7563 5017

THE INTRODUCTORY LECTURES

Lectures followed by discussion in small groups

Aimed at providing an overall view of the basic and most important concepts in psychoanalysis and its main applications. The course is suitable for people new to the field as well as those with experience.

Wednesdays 5.45 – 8pm

SPRING TERM 2010 13 January – 24 March

Play and symbolisation; Child psychoanalysis; Adolescence; Sexuality; Mind and body; Psychotic states; Psychiatric settings; Psychoanalysis and film; The internal world of King Lear

All lecturers and seminar leaders are members of the British Psychoanalytical Society.

Fees: £290 (full time students £217).
Application forms available on website.

Enquiries and booking 020 7563 5016.

CENTRE FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF PSYCHOANALYTIC STUDIES

Tuesdays 12 January to 9 February 8.15 – 9.45pm
Clinical/Theoretical Seminar
Psychoanalytic Perspectives on Work with Parents
Angela Joyce

Tuesdays 2 March to 30 March Interdisciplinary Seminar
Films and Psychoanalysis
Andrea Sabbadini

Friday 29 January 7 – 8.30pm

Spring Term Lecture (open to all)

On Being Alive: Between Death and the Primal Scene

Michael Parsons

Seminars £95

Lecture £15 (includes a glass of wine from 6.30pm)

Enquiries and booking 020 7563 5016

INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL MIGRATION THROUGH THE LIFE CYCLE

Saturday 23 January 9.30am – 1pm

Adulthood

Neither Rhyme Nor Reason: Migrating to the Rigidity of Narcissism as a Defence against Chaos and Pain Eileen McGinley

Roots, Identity and Loss in the Work of Emigré Artists: Karl Weschke and Ra'anana Levy
Jeremy Lewison

Chair: Irma Brenman Pick

Events on Old Age and Culture and Society will follow later in the year

Tickets £45 (concessions for trainees and students)
Enquiries and booking 020 7563 5017

ANNUAL RESEARCH LECTURE 2010

Wednesday 17 March 8.15pm

Michael Rustin
Varieties of Psychoanalytical Research

Tickets £5

Enquiries and booking 020 7563 5016

IMPARADISED IN HELL

Idealisation, Erotisation and the Return of the Split-Off
Ignes Sodre

Wednesday 10 February 8.30 – 10pm

In association with Birkbeck, University of London
Room B35 Birkbeck Main Building, Malet Street, WC1

Free lecture but contact Julia Eisner to reserve a place
j.eisner@bbk.ac.uki

CONNECTING CONVERSATIONS

Bringing together psychoanalysis and other fields

Friday 15 January 7.00-8.30pm
Juliet Stevenson with Andrea Sabbadini
Tickets £12 (concessions £8)

For details of further events and booking visit www.connectingconversations.org 07787 814 316

Organised in partnership with the Rowan Arts
Project, Freud Museum and Tavistock and Portman
NHS Foundation Trust

PSYCHOANALYSIS AT THE SCIENCE MUSEUM

Starting in October 2010 there will be an exhibition at the Science Museum about Psychoanalysis. A large programme of related events are being arranged around the exhibition. These will include general events for older adolescents as well as for adults on topics such as sport leadership, relationships, sexuality and identity, as well as psychoanalytic discussions around arts events such as films. Some of the events will be specifically related to Psychoanalysis and Science on topics such as the evidence base for psychoanalysis, neuroscience and models of the mind. Academics, philosophers and authors will participate with us in discussion.

Two of the events planned are the following:

Conference 15 – 17 October 2010
Psychoanalysis at the Science Museum:
Psychoanalytic Perspectives on Human Engagement with Climate Change

Lecture 24 November 2010
Psychoanalysis at the Science Museum: Cambridge Scientists and Psychoanalysts in the 1920s

Details of these and other events will be posted on our website as soon as they become available www.psychoanalysis.org.uk. There will also be a dedicated website for the Science Museum events which will have listings from June 2010 when online booking will also be available.

www.psychoanalysisatthesciencemuseum.org.uk