TRAINING AS A PSYCHOANALYST

If you have ever thought you might like to become a psychoanalyst, you can find full details of our training, on our website: www.psychanalysis.org.uk

You can also request an informal discussion with a psychoanalyst about the possibility of training by contracting the Education Officer, on 0207 563 5015
or by email luke.perry@iopa.org.uk

It is possible to pursue the training whether or not you live in London, as there is a well established system linked to several centres across the UK.

It is not necessary to have a professional background
in mental health but you do need to have a degree,
or the equivalent.

How to book

Admission to most events is by ticket only.
Please see individual listings for booking details.

Unless otherwise stated, all events take place at
The Institute of Psychoanalysis, 112A Shirland Road, London W9 2EQ
and are open to all.

www.beyondthecouch.org.uk

Welcome to Beyond the Couch, which contains information about events organised by the Institute of Psychoanalysis and associated organisations. Whether examining the relationship between psychoanalysis and the arts, looking at social issues from a psychoanalytic perspective or exploring aspects of clinical practice, these talks, workshops and discussions offer a fascinating insight into our inner world and the wider society in which we live.

The Institute of Psychoanalysis is the main professional organisation for psychoanalysts in the UK and a global centre of excellence in the provision of psychoanalytic training, education, publication and clinical practice. Established in 1919, its membership has included Sigmund Freud, Anna Freud, Melanie Klein, Wilfred Bion, Donald Winnicott, Marion Milner, Joseph Sandler and Hannah Segal. It is the home of the London Clinic of Psychoanalysis which offers a consultation service for anyone who may be interested in having a consultation with a qualified and experienced psychoanalyst.
